HEBREW Seminar (13th-15th) & Pastors' Conference (17th-19th) September 8-23, 2007

(right) Col. Paul "Monty" Felix with his Beginning Hebrew students. Because of the generosity of Col. Monty and Juanita Feilx's home church, Andrew Chapel United Methodist Church, St. Matthews, South Carolina, each of these students was given a King James Version Bible and a Strong's Exhaustive Concordance to begin their home Bible study library. Each student learns the Hebrew Alphabet and how to use the above mentioned books to prepare quality sermons.

(left) Dr. Jeff Hamm with his Advanced Hebrew students. This group learned Hebrew vowel pointings, accent marks and verb presentations. They become efficient in the use of a King James Version Bible, Strong's Exhaustive Concordance and a Gesenius Hebrew Lexicon. The task in this class is to learn how to parse verbs for a clearer Bible understanding to "rightly divide" God's Word.

(right) Dr. Karl Coke with his Conversational Hebrew students. This group has learned to read, write and speak Hebrew. These students are capable of translating the Old Testament from Hebrew to Tamil and Telegu. They are busy writing theology for India free of denominational bias. They all say to you donors who make it happen:

בֹּקֶר טוֹב (good morning)

(and)

וְתוֹדָה רַבָּא (thank you, very much.)

RBC/TPI Muttom Pastors' Conference
September 17-19, 2007

(left) Our TPI English speaking delegates from all over India. (above) Col. Monty Felix addressing the English speaking students in our Berea Hall classroom. Six one-hour sessions were held each day. Each teacher held this class one hour each day and provided extensive notes.

(right) Mrs. Juanita Felix on the far right with her interpreter (on the far left) pictured on the dining hall steps with the delegates to the women's leadership conference. This year we had 47 delegates who met for six classes per day. The joy of the ladies' conference spilled over to the entire conference. Mrs. Felix taught 4 of the 6 sessions each day. She promised the ladies "I'll be back next year."

(left) Subashini Valentina George from Kodaikanal, Tamil Nadu. She is the widow of Dr. Coke's best interpreter of all time, the late Rev. I. George. Rev. George passed away following the September 2004 RBC/TPI pastors' conference held in Muttom. She was a delegate in Mrs. Juanita Felix's classes. She is currently teaching English in her home town at a Christian school.

(above) Special friend and resort chef, Joseph, prepared all faculty and guest meals. Joseph is a great friend to all the faculty members. He enjoys leaving the jungle resort in the Niligris district once a year to serve the TPI/RBC faculty during these annual conferences. He made "french fries" for us!

(above) Dr. Coke and Rev. J. G. Arnold dedicated "Kaitlyn Cottage," a tsunami victim house built by Kaitlyn Elias, then an 8-year-old from New Jersey. Kaitlyn sold lemonade to build this house for young "Jackson" and his happy family.

(above) On behalf of the Mason and Lisah Brown family, Dr. Coke dedicated this house built by the Brown family for this tsunami victim family, the "Suembulingam Cottage." They are now gainfully employed making rope from coconut husk fibers. Dr. Coke gave them an offering from the Brown's which was the equivalent to one month's salary.

Grateful family praising God for anonymous KCEA donor's tsunami-victim's new house #1

Fishing family thanking anonymous KCEA donor for tsunami-victim's new house #2 (previous thatched house at right)

Still praising the LORD for meeting His budget through Partnership!
